DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saleh et al.

Saleh et al discloses a gas plasma emission source (page 477, Fig. 13.2-8 (a)) comprising a resonant cavity (see cavity that contains gas in the figure) and a solid state power source (see the electrical elements between the cathode and anode) coupled to the resonant cavity to excite resonant oscillations in the resonant cavity (see page 476).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Efthimion in view of Saleh et al.

Efthimion discloses a gas plasma emission source (figure 1A and 1B) comprising: a resonant cavity (12); and a power source coupled to the resonant cavity (34), wherein a coaxial cable is coupled between the power source and the resonant cavity (38 and column 5, lines 54-55) and the resonant cavity includes a tube disposed through the resonant cavity (14). The power source couples into the resonant cavity sufficient power to sustain a plasma in a gas disposed within the resonant cavity (column 9, lines 42-47, less than 100 watts and also see abstract), the plasma constitutes a fluctuation load with respect to the fluctuating load on the power source and the sufficient power is substantially stable with respect to the fluctuating load (column 6, lines 64-67, pressure fluctuation in plasma creates a fluctuating impedance in the plasma source (i.e. load), adding the absorbent reduces the pressure fluctuation, thus reducing the load fluctuation). The spectrographic detector is disposed to sense atomic emissions from a gas within the resonant cavity (column 6, lines 14-34). The gas enters on end of the tube and another end of the tube is an open end and the detector is disposed to sense emissions from the open end (see Fig. 1A and 1B).

The power source of Efthimion is not a solid state power source having an amplifier. Saleh et al discloses the solid state power source that has an amplifier (see page 476 under "Examples of Laser Amplifiers" and figure 13.2-8 (a)). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use a solid state power source instead for the purpose of obtaining a robust power source so that the power source can be last longer.

It is further noted that the reference meets all the claimed structure as set forth in support of a manner of using the device, and therefore inherently must be capable of this use in the same manner as structure of the claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
